

RICH MAN SUED AS LOVE THIEF

Prominent Manufacturer Named
In $50,000 Action for Alien-ating Woman's Affections.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Abraham Madish, wealthy president of the Acme Knit Goods Novelty Company, Brooklyn, was released from Raymond street jail yesterday after giving $3,500 bail. He was placed under civil arrest Monday afternoon on an order signed by Supreme Court Justice Crosey. This was obtained by Abraham Oboler, in his suit for $50,000 damages against Madish, alleging "criminal conversation," the legal phrase for an undue intimacy.

Oboler, who is a manufacturer of bonnet wire, has begun suit for divorce, naming Madish as co-respondent. In his complaint in the suit for "criminal conversation," which is a civil action, he alleges that Madish stole his wife's love and enticed her away from his home at 722 Mersey avenue.

THE LIGHTS WERE OUT.
Oboler, accompanied by detectives and two relatives, went to the bungalow after the lights had been extinguished. Reaching a room on the second floor, they knocked and announced that they were detectives.

"Wait until I dress," they heard a woman say. When the door was opened, the raiding party saw a man climbing out the window. Oboler seized the woman was his wife and that he recognized the man as Madish.

The man was chased. He dropped to the ground and disappeared. A man's clothing was in the bedroom. The complaint contends that a real estate blue print shows Madish as a joint lessee of the raided bungalow with Samuel Cohen, Oboler's father. It was Cohen's home, No. 722 Mersey street Brooklyn, that was raided.

The complaint says that last December Oboler saw his wife and Madish coming from the Empire theater in Brooklyn, and caused the man's arrest.

SAYS SHE LEFT HIM.
A reconciliation was reached and the Obolers lived together until May 1 when the wife left him. Oboler

Some of the Little Business Men of The Washington Times

Here are seventy-five or more of the great men of tomorrow. They compose one-fifth of The Times carrier force and salesmen. See that little chap on the right, in the khaki shirt? Allow us to introduce "Stater," a possible future President of the United States. These boys are business men—they know the value of The Times. They want to deliver the paper to you. If you are willing, telephone the Circulation Department, and we will do the rest. Note "Blind Boy" on the left, who sells a hundred or more copies of The Times at the ball park every day. Help the boys to help themselves.

says. He discovered, he says, that for some weeks he had been removing articles from the house to help furnish the Edgemere bungalow.

Oboler alleges that for some time before his wife's desertion she had threatened to make purchases and have them charged to him, despite his orders to the contrary. She bought a quantity of furniture and household goods, he says, all of which went to Edgemere. He let the sellers sue him and he says that he has had to settle several small judgments.

His complaint says that Madish's wife has obtained a divorce from him and that he sees a plot which contemplated two divorces and a subsequent marriage between Madish and Mrs. Oboler. The Obolers have two young children. Mrs. Oboler is about twenty-six, with a Juno-like figure.

WED WITHOUT PARSON; WIFE WON'T LET HIM GO

Couple Sign Up for Long Hitch By Joining Hands Over Anvil.

EDINBURGH, July 14.—Three years ago, David Mowat and Alice McConnell were married at Gretna Green after the old style, joining hands over the anvil in the presence of witnesses, who signed the marriage register.

The parties understood that they were legally wedded according to Scottish law, and lived together for some time. Later, however, Mowat repudiated the marriage, but the woman was successful yesterday in an action before the court of session for a declaration of marriage.

Mexican Deputies Split Over Revolt; Carranza Group Stops Sessions

Personal antagonism among members of the Mexican Chamber of Deputies as a result of the recent revolution has caused many members to absent themselves from the sessions of the chamber, and has made it possible for the Carranzista minority to block legislation in the lower house, the State Department was advised today in dispatches from Mexico City.

The Chamber of Deputies adjourned sine die on July 9, the dispatch stated. The only legislation enacted at the special session consisted of amendments to the electoral law. The Senate remains in session, considering restoration of constitutional government in the various states of the Mexican federation.

PINNED UNDER ENGINE, HE WRITES WILL, DIES

Has Cop and Fireman Witness Testimony While Men Try to Rescue Him.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 14.—Pinned under a locomotive that had fallen through broken trestle work of the Cand bridge here and realizing he was mortally wounded, Frank Meyers, railroad engineer, of Covington, Ky., wrote his will while men were striving frantically to release him in the hope of saving his life.

A beam had penetrated Meyers' abdomen, steam was hissing from the wrecked locomotive under which he was fastened, men were shouting and women shrieking as the ineffective efforts at rescue proceeded. Through it all the dying man remained calm, called for a piece of paper and a pencil, and wrote on the paper:

"I leave all I have to my wife." He signed his name and asked a fireman and a policeman of the rescue party to sign as witnesses. Soon afterward he expired. Meyers was forty-four years old.

DRIVES AUTO HE STOLE INTO GARAGE OF OWNER

Unwittingly He Goes Into Trap With Machine He Took at Pen-Mar.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 14.—Driving into the garage of the owner of a car he had stolen, Howard Lantz, thirty-seven years old, of Deerfield, Md., went through a series of experiences which terminated when he was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. L. Hill in Gettysburg, and after admitting the theft of the car was held for court.

The car was the property of Earl Singley, of Fairfield, and Lantz had taken it a week ago at Pen Mar Park. In explanation of his act he said that he was tired and didn't want to walk home, so he selected the Singley car and rode. Ever since then he had been using it to go to his daily work. Nothing was done to conceal the identity of the car, not even the license tags being changed.

At a hearing before Squire Hill Lantz was held for court, but his three friends were released.

259 BILLS AWAITING ACTION OF CONGRESS

Statistical outline of the activities of the last session of Congress was made public today by E. M. Martin, tally clerk of the House.

The House was in session 149 days over a period of 184 days. During that time 3,725 bills, 132 joint resolutions, 193 simple resolutions, and 23 concurrent resolutions were introduced. The President approved 193 public laws, 34 public resolutions, and 68 private laws and resolutions.

House committees reported to the House calendar 490 bills and resolutions during the session, while the House acted on 231 bills and 127 resolutions. Together with the bills and resolutions holding over from the first session of the Sixty-sixth Congress there will be pending for immediate action when the House convenes 259 bills.

U. S. COLORS FLY IN PARIS BASTILLE DAY

Stars and Stripes Mingle With French Tri-Color as Nation Celebrates.

PARIS, July 14.—French independence was observed today with elaborate ceremonies, the feature of which was a brilliant military pageant. It was the first actual peace celebration of the national holiday in six years. President Deschamps and Premier Millerand were prevented from participation, the former by illness and the latter by his absence at Spa.

There was a review of troops at Vincennes and a big military procession. All Paris was decorated and thousands of American flags flew from buildings as well as the French tricolor.

Marshall Foch was to have attended a reception at the Knights of Columbus club and receive a flag woven by California girls but could not be present because of the urgent call to Spa.

Marshall Petain who reviewed the troops at Vincennes, rode to the parade ground in a carriage with General Lefevre, accompanied by Governor Berdoulat, of Paris, on horse back.

In the military procession were a detachment of military cadets, a regiment of engineers, four divisions of infantry, seven batteries of light artillery, two batteries of heavy artillery and twelve regiments of cavalry.

Tonight the whole city will be ablaze with illuminations and bonfires will be lighted on the Heights of Montmartre.

GIRLS, 15 AND 20, KEPT IMPRISONED IN CELLAR

Emaciated and Worn, They Assert Store Proprietor Refused to Let Them Go.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 14.—Locked in a basement room, emaciated from the lack of sufficient food, and with haggard, worn faces, two girls were found yesterday by Policeman Coleman. P. W. Glass, proprietor of the restaurant in which they were found, was arrested on a charge of white slavery. He will be given a preliminary hearing Friday.

The girls, Virginia Williams, fifteen years old, and Josie Grasier, twenty, said they were kept prisoners more than a month by Glass, and received nothing as compensation but food. They say Glass assaulted the Grasier girl. The girls are from poor but respected families of St. Albans, this county.

Harding Gets Warning World Is to Be Sent To Destruction Aug. 4

MARION, Ohio, July 14.—Senator Warren G. Harding has been warned in a letter from an astrologist of Orono, Me., that both he and Governor Cox may as well suspend their campaign efforts now because after August 4 there isn't going to be any more world. The letter says:

"August 4, 1920, the sun and moon, Venus, Mercury, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, and Neptune will be on one side of the world, with Uranus in a continuation of the line on the other side."

"Isaiah xlii, 13, will be fulfilled and the nations who participated in the world war will be submerged by the Atlantic ocean."

Regardless of what Governor Cox may do, the Harding headquarters will keep open.

75 ANGRY SUIT OWNERS SEEK TO GET CLOTHING

Police Refuse to Open Doors in Shop of Tailor Who Is Missing.

BALTIMORE, July 14.—The whereabouts of E. Simon, West Baltimore tailor, who disappeared June 26, remains a mystery. In the meantime seventy-five anxious men of the neighborhood are clamoring to recover their suits, which they gave Simon to clean and press. Their efforts have been in vain, however, as the police have barred the doors of the establishment, and even the owner of the building, John Carroll, 1535 West Fayette street, cannot gain admittance.

MEN WILL CONTINUE TO DIRECT ZIONISTS

U. S. Women Win Over British Sisters Who Would Form Separate Body.

By DOROTHY THOMPSON.
International News Service.

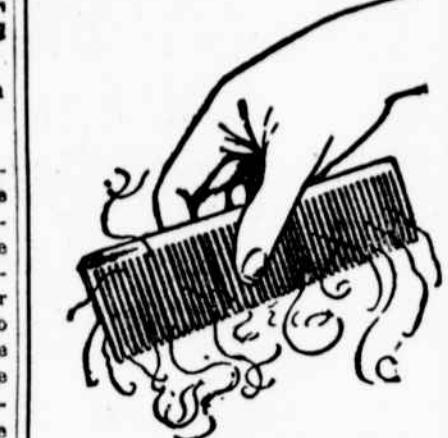

LONDON, July 14.—The Biblical position of men as superior in authority to women was affirmed today by the International Zionist Conference despite the efforts of British women to dethrone him.

It was a victory for the American woman attending the conference. The British women, for political purposes attempted to form an international women's organization, which would be separate from the Zionist movement which has been conducted for years by men.

"If the English proposals were carried out it would be only a duplication of the work already being done," said Ida Danziger, one of the American delegates. "We women have already undertaken, at the request of the men, the work which obviously belongs to women. We have established nursing and settlement homes, medical clinics, and other kinds of relief. But as regards the general work in behalf of the Zionist movement we prefer to let the men lead and not compete with them."

Tubes that are Worth Insisting Upon

The wall of the Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tube is thick, powerful and densely knit—as nearly absolutely impervious to air as it is possible for rubber to be.

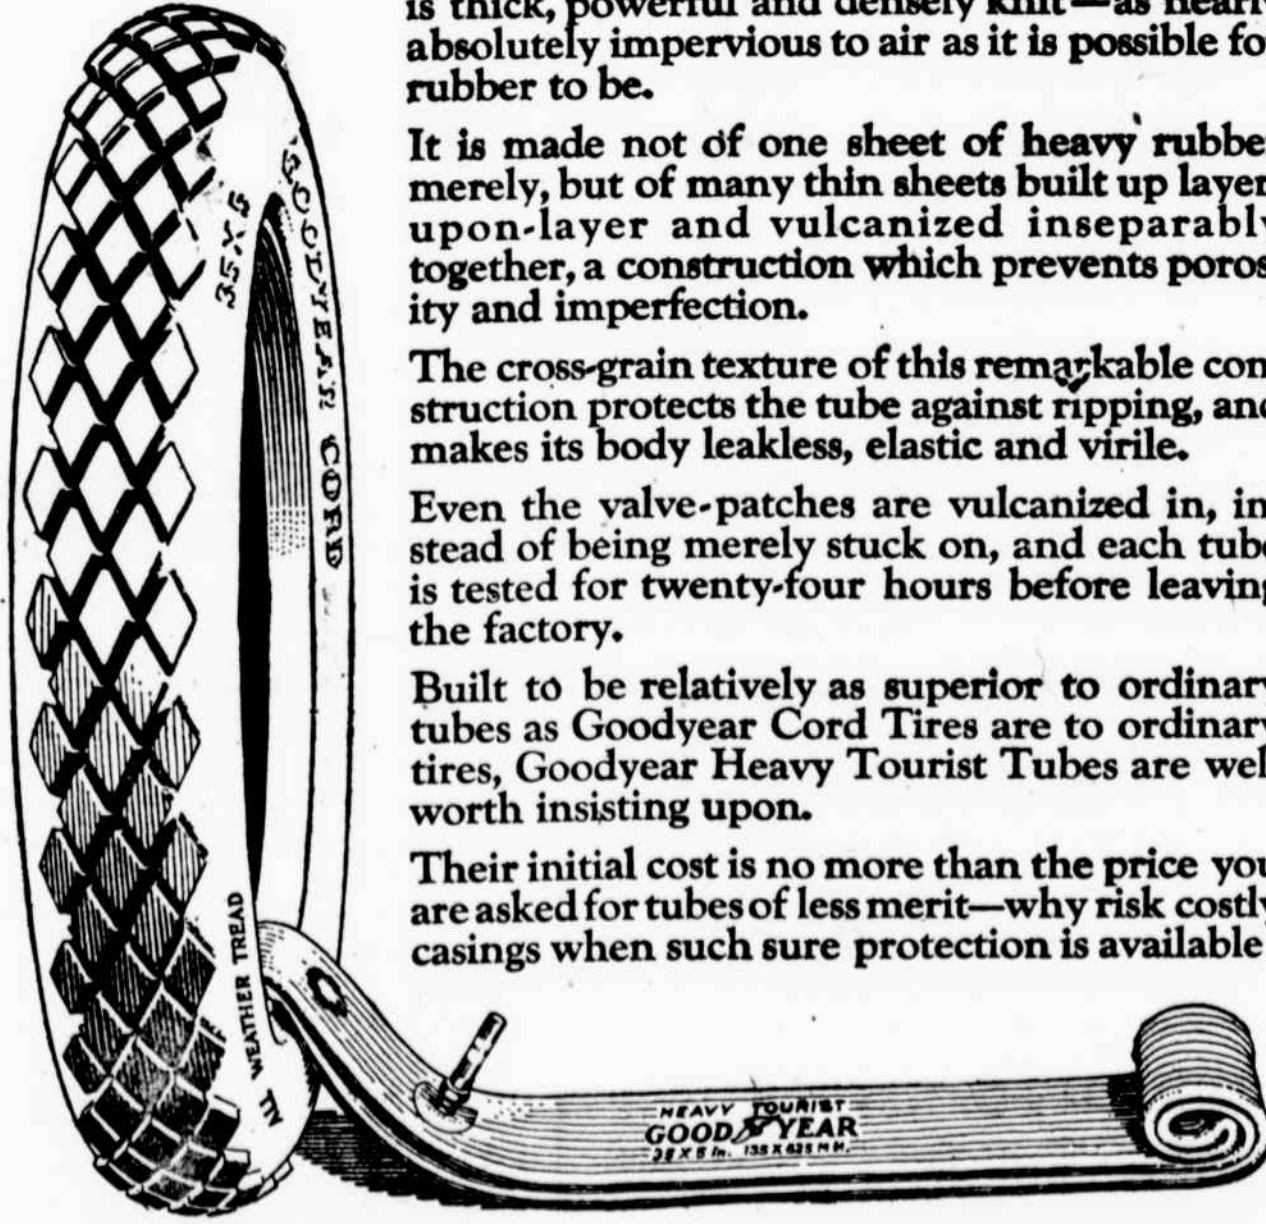

It is made not of one sheet of heavy rubber merely, but of many thin sheets built up layer-upon-layer and vulcanized inseparably together, a construction which prevents porosity and imperfection.

The cross-grain texture of this remarkable construction protects the tube against ripping, and makes its body leakless, elastic and virile.

Even the valve-patches are vulcanized in, instead of being merely stuck on, and each tube is tested for twenty-four hours before leaving the factory.

Built to be relatively as superior to ordinary tubes as Goodyear Cord Tires are to ordinary tires, Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are well worth insisting upon.

Their initial cost is no more than the price you are asked for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available?
